Florencia Pozo

Chile

En un mundo donde el "ser" está limitado por convenciones sociales, la individualidad se convierte en un acto de resistencia. A través de su carrera, Florencia ha capturado la esencia humana, contenida en el cuerpo, un ser visto en su propio transitar por cápsulas.

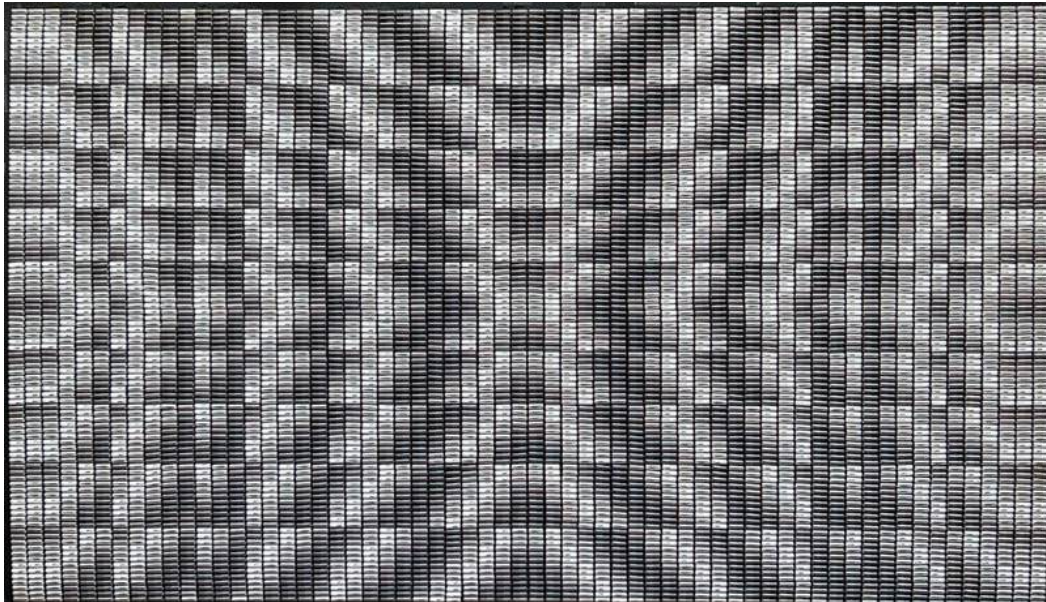

Las cápsulas nos muestran remedios para el alma, intervenciones visuales que reflexionan acerca de cómo la sociedad es pronta en saciar el vacío con remedios superficiales. Como si la esperanza, el amor y la felicidad pudieran ser tomados en una píldora. Desde la perspectiva dualista, el alma es una entidad separada y distinta del cuerpo físico, posee características como la conciencia, la identidad personal y la capacidad de pensar y sentir.

A través de las palabras, Florencia establece un diálogo entre cuerpo y alma, donde nos plantea que el remedio está en la experiencia de cada emoción de cada individuo. Al complementar las palabras con cuerpos contenidos, entendemos que vivir la individualidad es el único remedio para un alma que se resiste a vivir limitada, por más contenida que esté por un cuerpo o una cápsula.
